Listing photo checklist

The 14 photos every short-term-rental listing needs, in the order that converts. Print this. Tape it to your camera. Run it before every photo shoot for a new property.

The 14 shots (in order)

1. Hero (exterior or grandest interior)

At golden hour or early morning. Should make the guest stop scrolling.

2. Living room

Wide angle, natural light off, all lights on. TV off. Distractions tidy.

3. Kitchen

Counters clear except staged items (coffee maker, fruit bowl, cutting board).

4. Primary bedroom

Pillows fluffed, headboard centered, lights low-warm. Sheets smooth.

5. Primary bathroom

Counters cleared, towels rolled, mirror clean. No personal toiletries.

6. Second bedroom (or second-largest space)

Same standards as primary. Show the second bed clearly.

7. Outdoor seating / patio

Pillows arranged, plants watered, no visible clutter.

8. Outdoor amenity (pool, hot tub, grill, fire pit)

The amenity should look inviting, not just present. Towels folded next to hot tub.

9. View from the most-sold angle

What would make the guest book the property — the lake, the city, the mountain.

10. Coffee / morning routine

Coffee maker, mug, croissant, sunny window. Sells the morning.

11. Workspace (if any)

Required for any property targeting remote-work bookings.

12. Closet / storage

Open closet, empty hangers visible. Guest needs to know where to put things.

13. Welcome basket / host touch

Whatever the host leaves: wine, snacks, dog treats, kids toys. Selling the hospitality.

14. Floor plan / instructions

Why this order

Photos 1-5 sell the booking. Photos 6-10 sell the experience. Photos 11-14 reduce questions and increase review scores (because guests have what they need from the photos alone).
